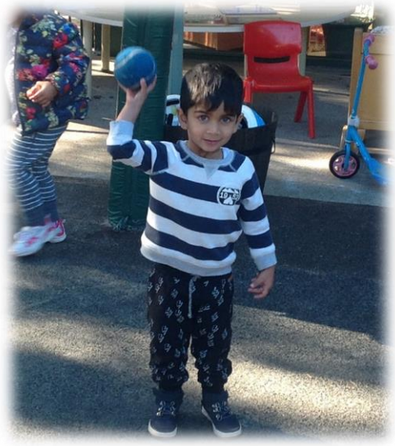
Reflection 2, June 2019, Koala Room



Well it is getting very Chilly, that is for sure!. That certainly doesn't prevent us from up rugging up and heading outdoors for indoor - outdoor play. The children are continuing to enjoy ball games, and we have added some new balls. Ball skills are being fostered. Patience and turn taking is happening with playing catch in two's and threes. Indoors we are using our scissors with increasing competency and lots of cutting is happening, teaching fine motor skis and concentration. The children love song and dance and are putting on dancing concerts. The children are taking turns with our daily routines with worms, watering and re-cycling, getting tables ready for lunch etc. We continue to embed the alphabet and numeracy into our program and the children are enjoying the alphabet games and activities on offer. Numeracy is everywhere and we are taking advantage of spontaneous teaching opportunities with number to help the children realise that mathematics and number are everyday occurrences and are part of their daily world. Language skills are increasing and we are role modelling (using words about sharing and feelings) with the children to assist them in social skills. Winter collage is happening as we talk about the weather and dressing warmly.
