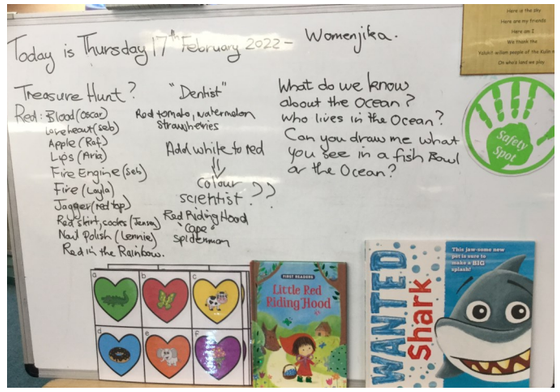
Green Group Kindergarten , Weekly Reflection

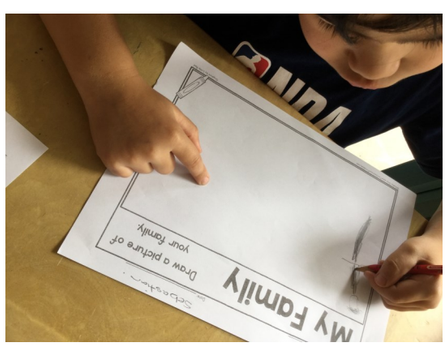
Term 1, Week 3, 15th—17th February, 2022



Week 3 we continued practicing our kinder routine, remembering our morning jobs and also having fun with a treasure hunt finding Red objects in the room. Let's be a scientist—if we add white to red what colour do we get? We explored this with red and white paint to find different shades of pink! Fun with active play and literacy learning engaging with "The Tiger who came to Tea" by Judith Kerr, reading the book, small play set ups and puppet dramatic play. Mr. Potato Head again was popular which encourages the children to look at our facial parts before we do our own self portraits later in the term. Magnetic play, ocean water play, playdoh with dinosaurs and cellophane strips to make volcanoes.

Our colour RED we noticed these findings– Blood, love heart, Apple, lips, Fire engine, fire, nail polish, tomato, watermelon, strawberries and red in the rainbow. Then we talked about love and read "The I love you Book" by Todd Parr and "Hugs and their Helper friends". These books help us to understand emotions and other ways to show love.

We continued to reinforce our heart, head and hands method that help us regulate our emotions and understand how others feel. This week we talked about the number of people in our family and then drew our family which has been collected and is in a booklet for everyone to see. We read the "Wanted Shark " by Stephanie Moss as children have created their own fish bowl or underwater scene and continue to enjoy water play.

Drawing, painting , sand play, mud play ,physical outdoor play and of course much singing and moving were engaged well by all.


Links to the National Quality Framework Area 1 Educational Program and Practice and TRCC Philosophy .