

Koala Room March 2022 Reflection 2

We have ticked off an exciting goal this month in the Koala Room. We went on our very first excursion, got our vests and names tags on and went. The children were very excited to get their vests and name tags on, we then spoke about walking on the footpath, holding their friends' hands and listening to their educators. Although we originally planned to only walk to Woolworths the children were doing so fantastic, we extended the walk to the first park. At the park the children eagerly waited while we did a check at the playground and then once it was safe ran over and climbed the equipment, swung on the swings and smiled the entire time. Painting, pasting, collaging and all things art related is what the Koala children really enjoy. We decided to have a turn using scissors I sat with the children to help guide and support them although some of them were very comfortable using scissors there were some children that needed a little extra support. After they had a turn, a few asked to go again so it is defiantly something that we plan to have in the Koala Room soon. There has been lots of questions lately about tools and watching what the builders are doing outside, so we decided to incorporate tools into our room. The children have been enjoying fixing things in the Room and are using the tools in the correct manner which is amazing a few children have been telling staff that their daddies have this tool. We wanted a sensory experience for the children in our room so we have set up our own beach with water and sand. The Koala Children have been enjoying talking about which animals live in the water and which animals live in the sea.
