Possum Room September 2022 Reflection 1

Welcome to Spring!

Our beautiful Family Tree it's had a makeover! The possum Room children have been very busy scrunching tissue paper for their sweet looking Blossoms.

It has been a great start to the month. We have begun to add more music to our program, which the children have really enjoyed. There were lots of smiles and giggles during this time, our children are such groovers and shakers. Music encourages children to move, developing their fine motor skills and gross motor skills. Plus, if the rhythm is very entertaining, you may even notice that they start to jump up and down, which helps with their muscle development, strength and balance.

We have also started to incorporate the topic of "Feeling and Emotions' during our group time. Our children are able to express themselves quiet well, through being vocal, gestures and facial expressions. Educators have been using handmade finger puppets which have a variety of different expressions. The children are very good at showing their educators the different faces they can express. We have altered the song "Where is thumbkin" when we say "How are you today sir"? we might say "I'm not very well, I thank you' if it was the sad face.
