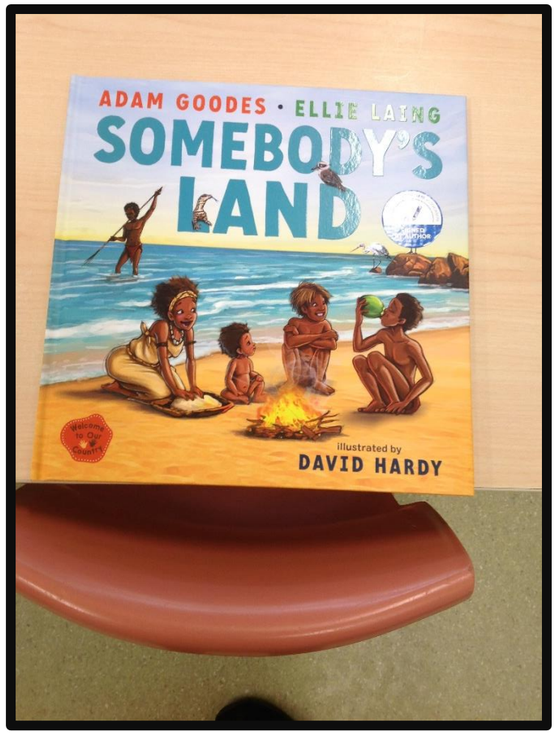
Kookaburra Room 2nd Reflection June 2022



This month we have been exploring all the different ways we can explore playdough, such as rolling the playdough out, and then cutting the playdough with the scissors, and then counting the bits we have cut. We also created letters of the alphabet on mats with the playdough, we also made playdough snowmen and added googly eyes pipe cleaners for arms and legs. The children are engaging well with each other following the routine of the room and are very good at predicting what comes next, such as we read book's together following lunch, and pack up after our educators put on the five-minute timer and pack up song The children are very much interested in card games, such as snap and memory and seem to be branching out of their friendship groups and exploring other friendships which is really nice to see. A big happy birthday to Aaliyah and Alex who turned 4 in July. The children have also celebrated Naidoc week with reading lots of dream time stories and learning a new aboriginal song, along with using clapping sticks the song is printed next to where we do our group time experiences. The children also painted large leaves, using red yellow and black the colours of the Aboriginal flag.

Links to the National Quality Standards: Quality Area 1, Educational Program and Practice and the TRCC Philosophy