

Curriculum Reflection- Date: January 2024

We have had a great start to the year, the children have adapted very well in their new room and routines, getting to know new educators and feeling comfortable with familiar educators from their previous year. Educators have learnt that this group of children enjoy engaging with creative art experiences, books, music and movement and puzzles. The home corner is usually a popular play space especially the doll area and I feel this has helped our children that have new baby siblings at home. Educators are finding our group of children adapt very well to new experiences and enjoy being independent. We look forward to getting to know all our families and watching the children grow.

Learning Outcome:

LEARNING OUTCOME 1: CHILDREN HAVE A STRONG SENSE OF IDENTITY

Children feel safe, secure and supported.

Show interest and curiosity through observing, listening, selecting and making choices.

This is evident, for example, when children:

Establish and maintain respectful, trusting relationships with other children and educators.

Confidently explore and engage with social and physical environments through relationships and play.

Express and share pleasure and pride in their own efforts, achievements and accomplishments through language, gestures, facial expressions and/or movements.
